

Zaiairie Auto Sales — pink palette options

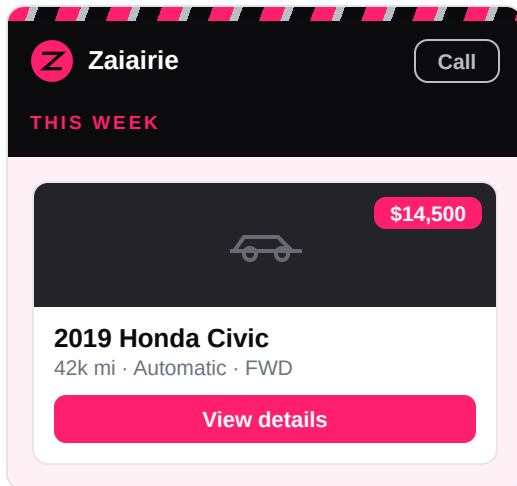

Four directions for the new site · June 3, 2026

The company sells used cars, so each palette keeps a dark anchor doing the heavy lifting and uses pink as the accent. That keeps the look bold without reading as a toy site. Every option below is shown on a dark navigation bar and on a white inventory card, the two places the color actually lives. Swapping to any of these is a four-value change in the Tailwind config, made once in index.html and once in admin.html.

01 Hot pink racer girl

RECOMMENDED

Aggressive racing pink over matte black, with a chrome accent and a motorsport stripe.

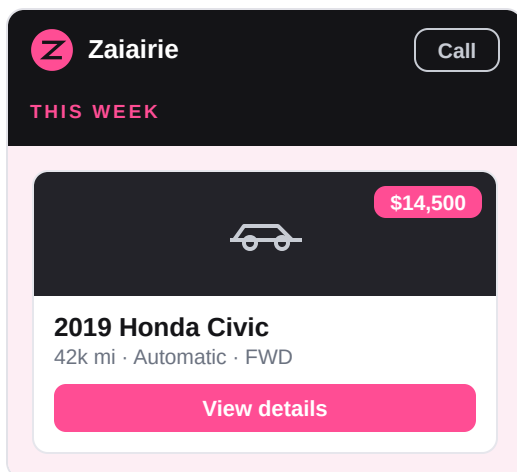

Racing black #0B0B0E	Graphite #232328	Racer pink #FF1F6D	Pink dark #CF1457	Chrome #B9BDC6	Tint #FFF0F5

READ The blend you described. Pink leads, but the black-and-chrome base and the stripe keep it on the track, not in the toy aisle. Strongest balance of edge and credibility.

02 Hot chrome

Bright pink plus brushed steel on charcoal. The most showroom-like.

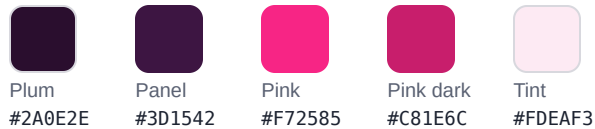

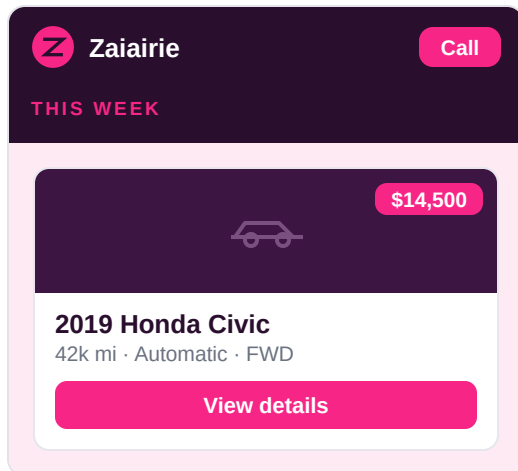

Charcoal #141417	Panel #232329	Pink #FF4D94	Pink dark #E0306F	Steel #C8CCD4	Tint #FDEEF4

READ Softer and friendlier than the racer. A safe lead option if Mike wants pink present but dialed back a notch.

03 Plum punch

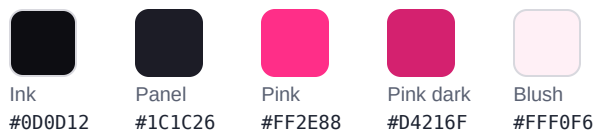

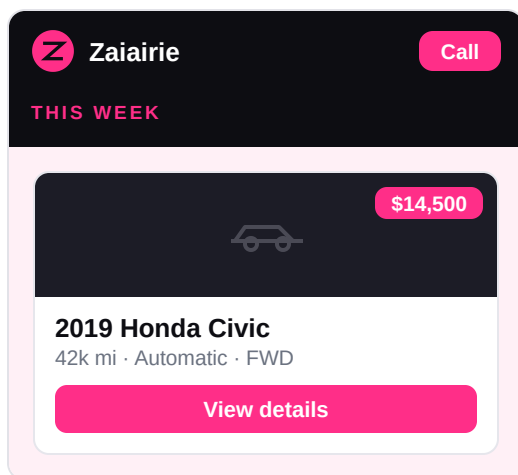

Raspberry on deep eggplant. Warmer and a little more grown-up.

READ Trades black for purple, which warms the whole site. Reads boutique rather than garage.

04 Neon noir

Hot magenta on near-black. The loudest, youngest option.

READ Most club-flyer energy. Captures the spunky spirit, but the highest risk to buyer trust on a used-car lot.

Prepared for Mike. Each preview is a faithful mock of the current site components. Final colors can be fine-tuned once a direction is chosen — for example, nudging the pink lighter or darker, or adjusting how much chrome appears.
